CHORAL LEADERSHIP AND EDUCATION-BASED EMPLOYMENT

Most recent post:

June 2015 – Dec 2018

Vocal Provision Manager

Tri-borough Music Hub, London

A multi-faceted and strategic role overseeing the singing and choral provision across three London boroughs (Westminster, Kensington & Chelsea and Hammersmith & Fulham). The post, which was created for me, encompassed many different aspects – developing and conducting primary and secondary- aged choirs, training school-based teachers and delivering CPD sessions for music tutors, raising standards in vocal tuition, evaluation of music tutors, devising and delivering large-scale children's choral events and collaborating on creative projects with partner organisations including the Royal Albert Hall, the Royal College of Music, The Bach Choir, English National Opera, Wigmore Hall and the BBC.

I left this full-time role in December 2018 following the birth of my baby, but I continue to work with the Hub as a Vocal Consultant on a freelance, part-time basis. In 2019 I led choral workshops in schools as part of The Bach Choir's Outreach programme.
